THE

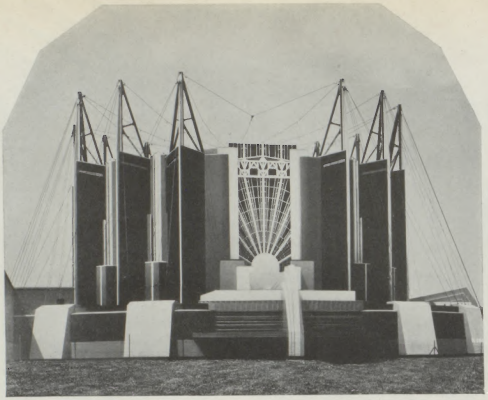

DUNES

Gateway to the World's Fair 1933

EDITION

Published by the students of the Hammond, Ind. High School

HAMMOND, for the second time in forty years, becomes the gateway to a Chicago world's fair. In 1893 the exposition, held to commemorate the voyages of Columbus four hundred years earlier, brought thousands through the same city which this year sees the people of all lands on their way to the new Century of Progress, Chicago's 1933 World's Fair. The exposition of a generation ago, with its conventional architecture and historical background, contrasts strongly with the present one, which, by its fantastic appearance, is so suggestive of the future. When we see the replica of Fort Dearborn, we begin to speculate on what another hundred years will bring to Chicago and Hammond. It is our city's unique distinction of being the gateway to these fairs that furnishes the background for our 1933 "Dunes."

In recognition of the infinite contribution which she made to the progress of our school, we dedicate this book to the memory of Miss Edna Getzendanner.

THE DUNES is here! All along the halls, from every door the words hit one in the face as everyone eagerly awaits the moment when he clutches the annual in his hand. One intense flare of popularity, then a long, well-deserved rest in a quiet corner. But at the same time the staff is breathing a secret sigh of relief. To that hard-working group of writers, artists, and financiers goes all the thanks an editor can muster. But above all, we wish to thank Miss E. McCullough, without whose cheerful supervision—well, you guess!

The Editor.

Our Administrators

WHO supervises our school? Very few of us would fail to answer this question, although there might be several different answers according to the following pages. From the Board of Education down to our own association, each division has its definite part to play in the administration of school affairs. Our method of student government, when compared with the schools of a generation ago, is significant of the progress which our school has made.

MR. L. L. CALDWELL, Superintendent of Schools

Men Behind The Scenes

Strolling uninvited into Superintendent Caldwell's office, we found him huddled over his desk, scrutinizing a piece of queer-looking stone. Startled by this uncalled-for interruption, he looked up and nodded his head toward a chair, indicating that we should sit down and wait. Then he again took up his examination.

Suddenly we heard a pleasant voice floating in our direction. "Very interesting, very!" it exclaimed. We fixed an inquiring look and he continued—"A new piece for my rock garden.

"Unless you have some information on rocks, you can have only three minutes," said this busy executive.

"Two and a half will be sufficient," we answered. "We wish to know all about the Board of Education."

Our friend of the stones cleared his throat, adjusted his neck-tie, and began.

"Well, there are three members: H. J. Gescheidler, president; Dr. McVey, treasurer; and R. G. Arner, secretary. They are elected by the city council for a period of three years, a new one entering, an old one leaving each year. They meet once a week to take up the financial and administrative problems of the schools. They are the supreme authority on schools and are responsible for all appropriations and building."

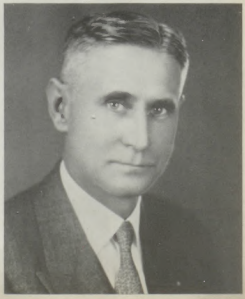

Having ended this, he again picked up his "specimen" and we could tell we were dismissed. With promises to send any queer rocks we happened to meet, we strode through the door and again breathed freely.

Faculty

WE have a very interesting faculty whose members come from a great many different schools of higher education. Mr. Rupp and Mr. Cook are loyal supporters of Oberlin College, and Mr. Keeler joins the ranks from the Buckeye State, having been graduated from Ohio State University. Mr. Spohn and Miss Pritchard have Earlham as their Alma Mater, and Mrs. Barnes continually sings the praises of Middlebury. Mr. Garrett and Mr. Hays believe Purdue is the finest school in the land, but Miss Exley is overjoyed at Michigan's Big Ten Football Championship. Miss H. McCullough and Miss Burhans are for Western one hundred per cent, but Miss Williams proudly displays the red and white banner of Denison as her favorite color combination.

The other day we believe we heard the strains of "Iowa" from Room 7, where Miss Thomas, along with the Misses Cain, Reed, and Heiner, also from the corn state, lustily sang behind closed doors. The Misses White, Gustafson, and Philippe peered in, but we heard the remark as they walked away, "Iowa schools are very fine, but no college can surpas DePauw." "On Wisconsin" is the password to interesting stories of college life told by Miss Buck and Miss Kirby, but Miss Van Doorninck says her stories about Central are much more fascinating.

"I recommend Wabash as a fine school, both for its courses of study and its activities," declared Mr. Huffine; but Mr. Campbell interrupted his speech with, "Why, Franklin is a much better school. Let me tell you about—." Here Mr. Wilson began a lengthy account of his years at Westminster, but was soon stopped by a crowding mob, the football squad.

Miss Schwiebert loudly shouts, "Ithaca, Cornell, Ithaca," when the subject of schools is brought up; but Miss Anderson and Miss Dieterich declare in thundering tones that the American College of Physical Education is much better. Mr. Hendricks recalls wonderful college days at Illinois State Normal; and Mr. Beyer often looks over his annuals from Baldwin Wallace. Mr. Long proudly tells the world he is from Lake Forest, while Mr. Kumpf has his graduation certificate from Bradley Polytechnical School among his souvenirs.

Miss Robards is an alumna of Carlton, "s'il vous plait", and Miss Suerth comes from Nuremburg in Germany. The University of California accounts for Miss Schubkegel's fondness for warm, sunshiny colors, while Miss Deans is a model graduate of Rockford. When Northwestern wins some athletic or debate contest the Misses Bollenbach, Newnham, V. Davis, Allman, and Lowery join hands and have a snake dance in the main hall.

Miss E. Davis is a graduate of Terre Haute Teachers College, while Miss Snyder studied advanced English at Evansville State Teachers College. Mr. Diercks says Valparaiso is a small but good school, but Mr. Howe believes that North Manchester is the best old school in the United States. Mr. Coleman likes Yankton, but agrees that Chicago is a fine school. Speaking of Chicago, Miss Reeder, Miss Conroy, Mrs. Rupp, Miss Johnson, and Miss Robison all love the college of the Midway. The Misses Chapman, Breyfogle, and Hawver recall the beautiful Illinois Campus at Champagne and Urbana, while the Misses E. McCullough, Wood, Overmeyer, Strange, McGranahan, and Melick, and the Messrs. Carmichael, Scott, Pittenger, Easton, and Collins are enthusiastic alumni of our own Indiana University.

SALVO MARKS
President

As We See Our Rulers

The country was in a critical state of affairs! The king's position was very uncertain! What to be done? After several weeks of consultation, the people decided to set up a republic and so they elected Salvo Marks as their smiling president; Marshall Smith as vice-president (he had been the king's jester); and finally, to make it thoroughly democratic, they made Alverta Sohl their capable recorder.

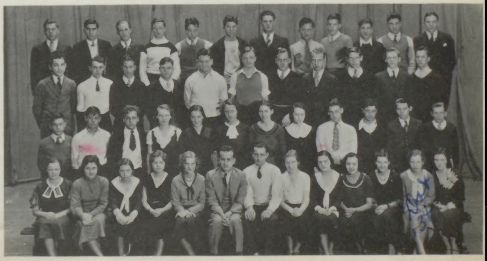

No one man can direct a country of people who continually pull in opposite directions (the junior and senior groups were constantly refusing to cooperate in small matters) so the president appointed a cabinet to aid him in managing the government. He made Stanley Sovola, Secretary of Public Safety; Jeanne Lynch, Secretary of the Junior Red Cross; Robert Childs, Secretary of Discipline; and Charles Baldwin, Secretary of Student Activities.

They planned to have a representative government and so elected a senate which had members from the various locations according to their size, making two freshmen and two sophomores, three juniors and three seniors, and one post graduate, for as such were the different principalities known. In order that every man and woman in the country might have equal voice in the law making, one representative was elected from each of the smaller divisions, which were known as advisories. This unit was known as the House of Represenatatives.

Following the example of a longer established republic, they felt that a judicial department was needed. To effect this, they appointed a group of wise men and women to comprise a court. This membership was chosen in the same way as that of the Senate, and the unit was called the Student Court.

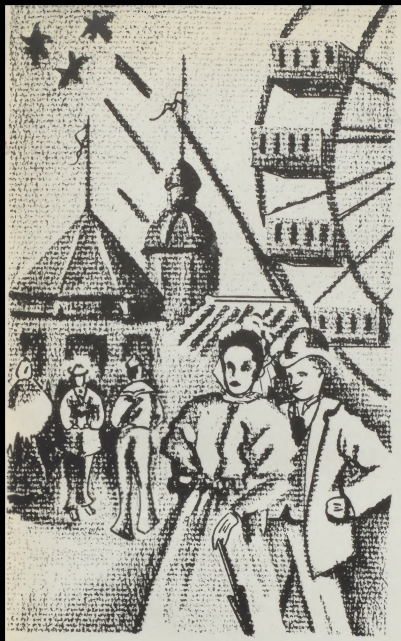

Thus came about the new republic known as the Hammond High School Association. In a very successful manner it has continued; the people are happy and prosperous, and the old king and titled personages are now loyal citizens of the land.

SENIOR HISTORY

(As found in the daily records of the Hammond High School Daily Dope.)

THE YEAR OF 1929

A. L. Spohn, principal of the Hammond High School, reports that some three hundred freshmen were added to the enrollment.

THE YEAR OF 1932

Among the gala affairs of the season was the Junior-Senior Prom, whose success was partly the result of the work of able officers of the junior class. Salvo Marks, president; Jeanne Lynch, vice-president; Willard Orr, secretary; and Stanley Sovola, treasurer, were its capable leaders. Sponsors who lent their efforts were Miss McGranahan, Miss Johnson, and Miss Anderson.

THE YEAR OF 1933

The class has been chosen by The Daily Dope to take the place of honor in the records of the H. H. S. as being one in which the majority are represented in almost every field of activity. To lead them, the group elected Chester Gargas, president; Maurey Zlotnik, vice-president; Sarah Scott, secretary; and Arthur Milne, treasurer. Faculty members chosen were Mr. Garrett, Mr. Keeler, and Miss Anderson.

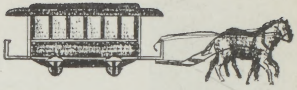

IN some of the fusty parlors of the faithful, handsomely made mottoes of MILTON ADANK are hung. To become a great baseball player has been GILBERT AHLBORN'S ambition for the last two years. ANNA ARMSTRONG, peace loving and docile, can be seen each orchestra period enthusiastically plying the bow on her 'cello. Like all other pressmen we find WILLIAM ATKINS busy, not only with his hands but with his tongue. When EDNA ATKINSON isn't out looking for bugs she is usually keeping step with the girls' band. BARBARA AULT, who believes that deeds speak louder than words, is another member of our guild of artists. We wonder how the cafeteria will manage next year without the aid of ANNA BACIU. Although a newcomer to our school last year, PEGGY BAKER is already the possessor of an enviable popularity, and excellent grades too, by the way. Not only has CHARLES BALDWIN outjumped all the other boys in the state but he has sucessfully managed the student activities. During her sophomore and junior years GERALDINE BALL'S name could be found on the list of the Girl Reserves members.

WINIFRED BARNES, one of the shortest, must have been a member of last year's junior class. ANNE BARTOLD was one of the mainstays in the inter-class speedball and basketball tourneys of last year. The Boys' Glee Club and Choral Club claim DELPHON BASHORE. We don't know whether it's his mellow voice or the necessity of having some tall boys in their midst. LUCILLE BASSOW, although called "Frenchie", is a stanch member of the German Club. ROBERT BECKER, quite a dramatist, is just another of these "little but mighty folk." EVAINEZ BEELER is one of the misses who takes her daily dozen in the percussion section of the orchestra and girls' band. HERMINE BEIDERWIEDEN lends her discords to the second violin section of the orchestra. WINIFRED BELL is just another of our sweet and demure little maids. LUCILLE BELLAMY, since a member of the G. A. C., has sort of dropped out of things lately. The swimming team proudly claims CHARLES BENBOW, and can he dive!

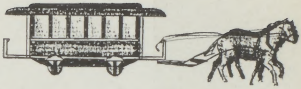

PAUL BENKO, though only a few have discovered it, has unusual artistic ability. We wonder how ANNE BENNETT managed that big Sousa phone that she puffs into the Girls' Band. GUST BEREOLOS, a well known talker on nothing, has his name on the roll of the Automobile Club. OLYMPIA BEREOLOS has started something new for the coming line of Bereoloses by being active in the choral organization. WILBUR BEVAN toots a cornet in the Boys' Band. STEVE BEVILLE puts sharps and flats in the wrong places for the Boys' Glee Club. Were there more like HARRIET BIENKO, gentle qualities and calm reserve would survive much longer. If you were as good looking as JOE BLACKMUN you'd play a string bass in the orchestra too so you could stand up and show your beau brummel qualities to the world. Just ask RICHARD BLAKE what the secret of being pleasingly shy is. VIRGINIA BLUE, as "true blue" as her name implies, works so hard on school work that she hardly has time for outside frills.

Her shyness, which does not invoke laughter, but rather deep respect, marks MARGARET BODOR as an individual in the class. Although his freshman and sophomore years were spent at another school, JAMES BOHLING is already a popular person in our midst. One does not need a microscope to read EDWARD BOJDA'S writing; so excellent it is that 'tis enough to make the heart of any teacher leap. St. Joe High School claimed part of MARY BOMERSBACK'S time, but while she has been here we have found her one to be admired for her wit and intelligence. MELVIN BOONSTRA is a quiet, peace abiding student of this institution. Big things are often accomplished by persons of small stature, as is shown by RAYMOND BOOS. Her love of history has won for GRACE BRUHN a place in the Sphinx club. Of course you know DALTON BRUNSDON; he's the fellow that used to drive that old red and black taxi to school. Just where GARNETT BUCKNER would be without Lucille Bellamy we could not tell. FERN BUNGER is another member of that ever popular Girl Reserve organization.

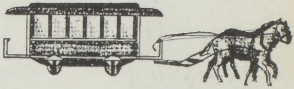

FRED BUNGER had high and mighty hopes of going out for track this spring. Who among her friends does not feel that ELNORA BUWA, with her soft words, makes the world a little better to live in when she smiles and gives a pleasant greeting? That flaming haired lad who has finally been awarded a place in the Boys' Band is none other than ROBERT CAHALL. MARGARET CALDWELL is that quiet reserved little person whose greatest ambition is the Girl Reserves. CAROLINE CAMPBELL applied for membership in the Hi-Y but was refused. Oh, to dance and have individuality like SAM CARLEY. ROBERT CARR plans to be an A. & P. store manager some day. CHARLES CARROLL'S "long suit" is athletics, especially track. CHARLES CARTER is an artist not to be sneezed at, and has he ever the "line" to pull! Careful, girls! JEANNE CARTER'S sweet personality and striking clothes are a marked asset to any study hall.

Although MARY ELLEN CARTER belongs to the French Club she is a much more important member in the Carter-Matthews organization. Yes, we'd like to be able to wear those glasses like MARIETTA CHAPMAN, and look as dignified as she does. ROBERT CHILDS, first Clarinetist in the Boys' Band, has his say in about every thing, including Student Court, Debating, and Sphinx Club. ARNOLD CHRISTEN, that cunning touseled-headed blond, has done himself proud in the quartette of cheerleaders this year. DRUSILLA CHRISTENSEN sings (or otherwise) in the Glee Club. DOROTHY CLAYTON has finally reaced her cherished desire of being a member of the Sphinx Club. KATHRYN COOLMAN is another of these all-around persons, having her dab in the Bohemian, Sphinx, and French clubs and debating. MILDRED COFFING spends most of her time in the girls' gym. VIRGINIA CURTIS, quiet and sweet, is a member of the Girls' Glee Club. JOHN DEROLF must have been the chap for whom they wrote the "try, try again" adage.

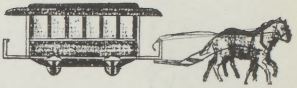

EDNA DERYBOWSKI has spent four years walking in and out of Mr. Hendrick's advisory. Her charms so many and her faults so few make MARIANNE DETRICK one of the most beloved of the characters in the class. CLIFFORD DICKINSON is known as an aspirant for Bill Tilden's honors. With a name that makes us think of Russian czarinas, dancing dark eyes, and lovable charms, CATHERINE DIEHL is enough to attract attention. ALICE DIENER has earned her reputation through participation in the Sphinx and German clubs. ROY DIETERICH shall long be remembered as the pianist of the school dance orchestra. We feel that the girls' swimimng team would be lost without JUEL DOBBINS' speedy back stroke. HELEN DOBOS has a talent for writing poems and stories with a different and brilliant theme. Who speaks then, of neatness, when MARGARET DROBINA is in our midst? — JOE DRZICH is one Senior who centered his ambitions on football alone.

MARIE DUTTON is a prized participant in just about everything available. JANE DYSART and her glossy black hair are to be seen in many clubs. The band and orchestra claim OTTO EBLER as their property. CLAUDIA EDWARDS is a prominent Arts and Crafts Club member. JUNE ELSTER and her trombone are quite essential to our musical organizations. VICTOR ENGLISH has been one of our able basketmen. RAYMOND ERNST, it seems, is emerging from a successful hibernation. "RICHY" EVANS and football just seem to go together. In the days when this town boasted some banks RALPH EWING was a competent bank cashier. ELVA FALK is one of our ardent feminine athletes.

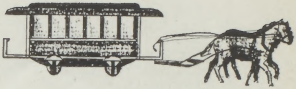

EDWARD FEINBERG represented his advisory in student administration for three consecutive years. LILLIAN FERRO is one of our ardent parlezvous-francais-ers. MARTIN FESSENDEN, J. P. Morgan in the making, has been spending his time in our banks—when we had 'em. WILLARD FINDLING and his sports articles are invaluable to the Herald. IRVING FINE rattles off German to the amazement of all the club members. SALLY FORKUM shall be known by that Southern drawl—(does she still have it?) When the band gets hot it's sure to be ROBERT FRASER, the original "hot-cha" man. FRANCES FREEMAN is one of our fervent actresses. SHIRLEY FRIEDMAN is a prima donna under construction—or at least she's in the Glee Club. JOE FROSS, the ape-man, is a prized member of our cheering quartette.

JOHN FURMAN possesses those characteristics which one is sure to find in all promising business executives. "CHET" GARGAS, president of the Senior class, captain of the football team—'nough said. PAULINE GASPAROVIC has more than made the grade in spite of difficulties. VIVIAN GAVIT shows that vim, vigor, and vitality fit together in more ways than one. "LANIE" GEISLER has great aspirations in the line of dancing. PAULINE GEORGE is a lassie with activities of all types and descriptions. Arguing is HAROLD GERSHMAN'S hobby, morning, noon, and night HOWARD GESCHEIDLER is an active dramatist, Hi-Yer, and what-not. FLORENCE GINDL, Kreisler the second, has been concert master of the orchestra for the past three years. GEORGE GLOSER is an active bug-man (biologist).

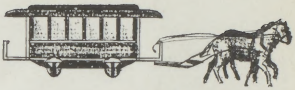

JOHN GOLEC has been trying to make us envious by his grades. LEONARD GOREN is a big fellow with a big smile. "PUNK" GOSTLIN is a French-Biologist (we should like to hear some of those terms in French!). VERA GOWELL makes up in pep what she lacks in dimensions. HELEN GRABSKI, quiet and reticent, has confined her club activities to the Girl Reserves. LEE GRAVES, all-state guard, was president of the Senior Hi-Y. MELVIN GRAVES has been one of our H. H. S. fish. DOROTHY GREINER has graced the school with her ever present smile. ELIZABETH HALASZ is one of our bug fiends. DONALD HALL is one of our advisory legislators as well as a pressman.

DORIS MARY HARBERT has been a Bohemian. BEVERLY HART is courageous when seated, seething at the proper heat of indignation, before a well-oiled typewriter. Senator ROBERT HATHAWAY has long guided the destiny of this noble institution. WALLACE HECTOR has almost an uncanny knowledge of where to place almost all kings in history. GERTRUDE HEIN has been active in the Girls' Band. JOHN HEMPHILL is another hard-working lad who rightfully deserves his award. MARION HERMAN juggles the drum sticks in the band. MARIAN HERRBURG, frenchman and what-not, does a lot of things with very little noise. FRANCES HESS is not only a singer but also an artist. MARGARET HESTENES and the Glee Club are an inseparable combination.

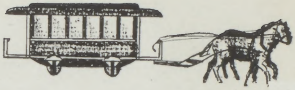

Service seems the pastime of EVELYN HESTER, for she honors Girl Reserves alone. Perhaps no other boy has as many varied interests such as music, art, dramatics, and sports as has LAWRENCE HEYL. LEE HICKMAN is claimed by the Boys' Band as one of its prize drummers. PHIL HIDY, our tiny trackman, seems to be jack of all trades. JEWEL HINKLE is "tres petite et tres belle". WINETTE HOEPPNER and the Biology Club have been closely united. JEANETTE HOBLITZEL is an active "Sphinxer". WALTER HOFFMAN has been a footman-pressball—or football-pressman. ROBIN HOPKINS—what would the Bohemian Club do without this budding author? So few really know EVANGELINE HORNER, but those few value her friendship highly.

As a member of such honorary societies as the Ace of Clubs, Sphinx Club, and National Honor Society, HELEN HOTINSKI identifies herself as a fine student. LORRAINE HOUSELY promises to make a name for herself in the field of modern art. PAUL HOWERTON is not only jack of all trades, but, it seems, master of all. ROBERT HUBBARD and the football team have been a valuable combination. CHARLES HUGHES' mind must be well loaded because it makes so little noise. The band will sorely miss EUGENE ILIFF, for his playing has boosted it quite a bit. WARREN ILIFF'S aims are of the highest. One is sure to find STEVE IVAN either in the Press room or the swimming pool. For CLYDE JACKSON life holds no problems—only joy. Marcia Jackson, as well as having studied history, has made it by her sweet, attractive kind of grace.

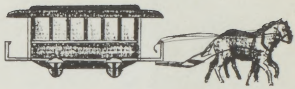

One finds in IRENE JANECZKO a noble all-around girl and a willing helper. Heard'st thou the sweet wail of a clarinet? 'Twas ROBERT JARNECKE practicing. THOMAS JOHNS, our modern Hercules, is widely known for his ability in the field of wrestling and tumbling. It is easy to predict a rosy future for an ambitious boy with JOHN JOHNSON'S accomplishments. Blonde hair and blue eyes hold such joys for RUSSELL JOHNSON. Hidden beneath the quiet reserve of WILLARD JONAS lies great sincerity, musical talent, and brilliance. Service is MARGARET JONES' middle name. No payment can possibly compensate her for her spirited zeal in carrying on school activities. VIRGINIA JONES just smiles and smiles. We wonder if they all are so happy in Fenger? Who volunteers to speak this young lad's name? JOSEPH KACZOCHA beats them all because it's his. A finer student nor more active miss could ne'er be found than is KATHRYN KAIN.

The world belongs to the energetic like WALTER KANTOWSKI. Debating seems the diversion of EUGENE KARLOWICZ. We like BLANCHE KATONA'S auburn locks. Walk down the main corridor, walk in the room commonly known as the library, pick out the noisiest boy in the room, and that will be CHARLES KATONA. Some day you must catch AL KAYES in the proper mood, and have him spin some yarns of his travel over the good old earth. FRED KELLNER'S record is bright, his hair is dark. Long may the Irish live with ELEANOR KELLY as an inspiration. A popular and competent actress and songster is DORIS KENNEDY. THELMA KIEFER sees and smiles and goes. EVELYN KINDEL'S real value lies beneath the surface.

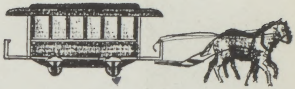

Among the characters of the Senior class we find STEVE KITCHEN, who can be good when he wants to be. We hate to think what girls' sports would have done without the leadership of JANE KLEIHEGE. Band, Glee Club, and Choral Club will suffer a great loss upon JUNE KLITZKE'S departure. Friendly MELBA KNAUSS has many a friend. A tiny turned up nose sometimes means danger. Woe to him who angers VERA KNOTT. With a cheerful heart MARY KOCHAN turns work into play. A quiet, studious lass is MAGDELINE KOCHLACS. ESTHER KOEHLER is one of the petite, charming misses of the senior class, and we know you'll like her. Wisdom grows in quiet places as illustrated by RALPH KOEHLER. HARRY KOESTER has a snappy reputation for being small and full of pep.

Boosting our school is FRANK KOPACZ'S chief occupation. All light-hearted ones are not without the pale of intelligence. We mean KENNETH KORTORAX. The Boys' Band, Orchestra, Automobile Club, German Club, Senior Hi-Y, and National Honor Society all point at HAROLD KOSANKE with pride, as well as do a number of the fairer sex. Rivalry in the red-headed party? ARNOLD KRAUSE has them all admiring his hair. Like the common boy, WALTER KUTKOSKI does not strive to be the president. She has sunny locks, but JAUNITA LAUDERBACH'S golden sense of humor marks her as a favorite. Prettiness, sweetness, and energy neatly bundled into one person—ANN LAVIGNE. Mischief is WILLIAM LAWELL'S middle name, for when he's around things can't be tamed. How we envy WILMA LAWLESS for her grace, poise, and delightful charm. Much is hidden behind the brow of ROBERT LEAS, as such organizations as the Camera Club, Senior Hi-Y, National Honor Society, and debating coaches have discovered.

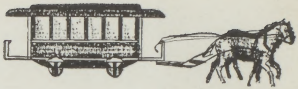

In EARL LEETS you will surely find both a scholar and a sport. Who was the first president of the United States? Ask SAMUEL LEVIN, he knows his history. Full of life and full of fun is SYLVIA LEVIN. The Biology Club, Girls Reserves, and Sphinx Club have claimed the attention of VIVIAN LIDGARD. With the big battle of various bidding systems still being waged, a word might be said of HAROLD LILLIE and his chemistry problems. ELSIE LITHVAY'S crowning glory gives her the right to join the ranks of pretty lassies. As a sportsman, JOHN LIVINGSTON is fair. Mildred, the MILDRED of Mrs. LIVINGSTON, likes the high-stepping life, void of school. MONROE LOCKE believes in practicing what he preaches. A modern mermaid of no small consequence is FRANCES LOWELLE.

JEANNE LYNCH will always be remembered as a brilliant student who lends a hand smilingly and graciously to one and all. A flashing smile indentifies SALVO MARKS as our Association president and as a remarkable orator. A musical and artistic temperament has MARY MARNYE. JOLAN MATOLCSY finds her pleasures in sports and makes her home in the water. Athletically inclined, "RAY" MATTHEWS is a member of the would-be-champion 1932 football team and of the track team. ANNA MATUSKO has agreed to carry on her standard of initiative after graduation. As manager of the girls' swimming team, president of the G. A. C., and as a member of the French Club, KATHRYN MAYHEW has carved a niche for herself which can hardly be replaced. The business world is looking for girls of VIVIAN McCELLAN'S type. The Girls' gym is BUNA McLAUGHLIN'S kingdom. NORMAN MEIERS' only ambition is to someday own the Chicago Tribune.

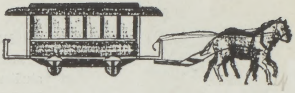

Although the path is rugged, ambitious, hard-working people like MARJORIE MEYERS always reach the top. Pretty and pert girls like FRANCES MICHUDA are much in demand. MIKE MIGAS is our all-around varsity pig-skin jostler. He plays half-back and end with marked ability. SUSIE is a fair name but you should see it in front of MILLAN. Sometimes everybody seems to think that ALAN MILLER is one up on Rip Van Winkle, and we don't mean his beard either. MARY MILLER is one of the most active members of the G. A. C. She has developed herself into a fine halfback and should receive many bids for college teams. HAROLD MILLIES enjoys playing basketball and tennis but what we've seen of him shows us that he gets more than enjoyment out of it. "SLIM" MILNE seems to find time between football and track to cast an admiring eye on our school's feminine products. WAYNE MINNICK indulges his time in debating, which he likes and can do well. THEODORE MIOFSKY is one of Miss Hawver's most efficient library helpers.

IRIS MITCHELL, during her senior year, recorded the minutes of the Biology Club. LUCILLE MOHR, what a woman; ask any boy how she can dance and dance and oh well. EDDY MOORE, a jolly old fellow, would rather go to school than stay at home. "Ho-hum". ERLAND MONGEON doesn't love school, but don't forget that you can't read Lincoln's signature. "BUFFALO BILL" MORTHLAND is a straight shooter and a good worker. LESLIE MORTON, "ah, whatta man," catches the eye of many fair fems. CLYDE MULLEN goes to school at "Johns" and drops in at the high school for lunch. DONALD MURPHY likes school because he has no choice in the matter. At last it has come to this. BETTY NELSON, human dynamoess, is crazy about dancing and some other boys I know. HELEN NEMETH is a quiet demure young lassie.

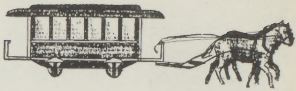

ROBERT NICHOLS is the Frenchiest Frenchman of the French Club. He's a studious boy and loves his books. ERNEST NOCK is big for his size and makes good basketball material for Huffine. Rudy Vallee's sax, alias KENNETH NOWLAN'S. He toots a mean horn on our H. H. S. Band. ESTHER NUOFFER is a party-loving young woman and thrives on the fast young life. Teachers say that they would like to have FRANK O'DONNELL in their advisory. In RALPH OGDEN we find a versatile character. We can't imagine him without schoolbooks or a typewriter. CATHERINE OLSEN, although quiet and unassuming, is one of the foremost students in the class. Playing baseball like a vet, HAROLD OLSEN stands out as a fine fellow and a clever ball player in that field. What say you? Oh, that JOSEPH O'REILLY has tooted, pounded, or at least sat with the Boys' Band for four years. Small but mighty, JAMES ORR stands out distinctly in the field of scholarship.

Ah, "MUSTACHIO" ORR. We have come to him at last. Our great halfback can also play a clever game of basketball. HAZEL ORSBORN will no doubt someday turn out to be someone's able stenographer. NOELA OSBY, a familiar worker in the library, has been making progress as a songster. THOMAS O'SULLIVAN was a great find for the track team after three years of inactivity. Our quiet little SYLVIA OTTO silently added her presence to the Sphinxers and long years ago to the Ace of Clubs. JOSEPH PALKO, the shifty halfback, could fully fill "Gig's" shoes when the time came. One of our experienced Camera Club enthusiasts and hikers is HELEN PAPAGEORGE. HAZEL PATTERSON finds her interests centering around the Automobile Club and the Girl Reserves WILLIAM PENTEK is one of our "ether" men. His name adorns the roll of the Radio Club. JEANETTE PERRIS has been active in the honorary societies of the school.

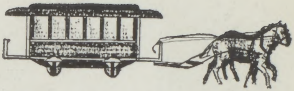

IRENE PERS hopes to become a librarian someday. She ought to, with four years service in the school library behind her. HELEN PETERSON is another of our fluent Frenchmen. FRED PICKETT added his silent wisdom to the Sphinxers during his sophomore year. DOROTHY PILZER was a Girl Reserve and—oh, yes—also a bug fan. ADELLE PINDIAK is a real pal; just ask some of her friends. TRAIAN PIRAU will doubtless some day be tooting his French Horn under Toscanini. HALLIE POST has reached the goal of the National Honor Society and is proud of it. MARGARET ANN POTTS seems to be interested in nothing special, unless it could be History and the masculine. GEORGE PRATT, when wanted, can be found in the Chemistry Lab. He's a glutton for punishment as well as chemistry. EUGENE PRESSLER is taking life easy after his job as Business Manager of the Dunes last year.

Not only can LEONA PRICKETT play the French Horn well, but she is an artist with the brush. JOE PROBASCO is another of our ambitious (?) classmates who boasts no club memories. JAMES RADFORD, our five year man, did good deeds on the basketball and football teams. MARY RANDALL, sweet, quiet, and unassuming, has of late been seen at the Automobile Club meetings. JAY RAPP once lent his noise to the boy banders. A good example and good sportsmanship can be found in WILLIAM RATHBUN who was out for football for four years even though he got in very few times. MARJORIE REINERT, an artist, a Bohemianer, a bug-oliger, and a reserves lassie—what could we wish for? GEORGE RIPLEY, strange as it may seem, would rather go to school than do anything else. "Sprechen Sie Deutsch" says ADOLPH RISHKA, an active member of the German Club. HELEN RITTER must have let her pal, Marjorie Reinert, do all her "activating" for her—we find no clubs listed under her name.

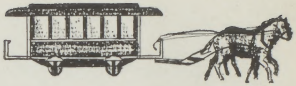

When the band sounds like a Wiener Minstrel you know that BILL ROBINSON is doing his stuff on the trombone. ANITA RODY is a school favorite and is sure to place in the afternoon's heat. The Choral and Glee Clubs borrowed flatted sharps from CELIA RUARK. Say, you smart seniors, do you remember EVELYN RUHL in your Ace of Club days? This was EMMA SCHEER'S first year in our high school but she already belongs to the Girl Reserves. LORIS SCHERER, one whom we instantly recommend, is a member of the Girl Reserves. Another enthusiastic ether-man who graces the Radio Club is WILLARD SCHLEIZER. EDITH SCHMUESER has battled her way through the four years and landed herself a berth on the National Honor Society. JOSEPHINE SCHMUESER fiddles night and day and intends to be a great violinist. The entire school as well as the Dramatic Club has profited by ALLEN SCHOOP'S dramatic ability.

By ELMER SCHULTZ'S continuous arguments, we find that he has a genuine love for debating. KENNY SCHWINGENDORF never feels so at home as when he is swinging the old pigskin and ripping through the line. The younger SCHWINGENDORF, PAUL, is fast competition for his brother on the gridiron. Petite-competent—ESTHER SCHWARTZ'S headquarters are in Room 11 eighth and ninth periods. We, who indulge in reminiscences of the past, see charming, talented SARAH SCOTT busily writing the notes of the senior class meetings. JANE SEAMAN, future journalist de luxe, is one of the most popular and really versatile girls in school. MARGARET SEDLAK has the ability to apply herself to her studies. "So you are the chap who has usurped my role as the heart breaker of the world," said the Prince of Wales to JUSTIN SEROCZYNSKI. WALTER SIKORA is one of the lads who has helped the Boys' Band on the road to fame. FANNIE SIMON we shall remember as the possessor of a radiant, friendly smile.

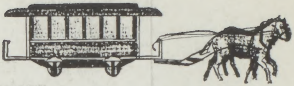

HELEN SIPKOSKI has offered her abilities and talents to about every field of work in high school. MARSHALL SMITH, this dear old school's enthusiastic vice-president, has a voice which enthralls the entire assembly. Are your financial affairs in a muddle? Ask for DICK SMITH, business manager of the Dunes. ALVERTA SOHL is the possessor of a friendly smile, a clever wit, and an outstanding scholastic average. WALTER SOHL, a member of the National Honor Society, has the secret hope of becoming a professional dancer. STANLEY SOVOLA, who does credit to a football suit, has deep, deep,—ambitions to become a "crooner". MAX SPENCER does what he can because he can't help it. MARY SPRAGIA wields the brush and palette with vigor for the honor of dear old Arts and Crafts. We think VERONICA STARESNICK would make a good English teacher because of her excellent use of grammar. FRED STAVINS takes things seriously, even his humor.

HOWARD STEELE, creative writer de luxe, has a real imagination, according to our English teachers. By unanimous consent CORA STEFFEY is Hammond High's foremost dramatist. IRENE STOCKER is hardly a snake charmer even though she did belong to the Biology Club. A good looking wretch, snooty and mischievous in aspect, is BETTY STOIKOWITZ. Rain fails to douse the spirits of "RICHIE" STOIKOWITZ when he is defending our goal posts. JACK STOKES always looks industrious in his chemistry apron during laboratory period. For the past four years, HENRY SWIONTEK and his ideas have been associated with this school. MILLICENT TAMURA is famous because of her likeable personality. DOROTHY TARNE is one of our petite and popular seniors. EVELYN THENOILS is another of the illustrious ones who are bedecked by National Honor pins.

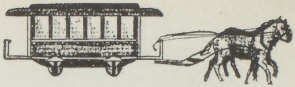

HERMINE THOMPSON is about the grandest of the character actors of the Dramatic Club. KATHRYN THRAILKILL has found that she has a natural ability to play the piano. PAUL TROWE, although slight in stature, has made his presence felt. Persons seeing and hearing ROBERT TWEEDLE act for the first time are tricked into believing he is an adept artist at love-making. CHARLENE UMBAUGH has that sort of a French pronounciation that delights a French teacher. JOHN VAN NATTA, one of the best of our thinly clads, is pretty quiet for an "H" man. We simply can't imagine the Glee Club without the presence of ARTHUR VIEWIG. CHARLOTTE VOGEL carries a famous name and has a reputation for being quiet until she starts talking. Physically, BOB VOGEL is the largest, and his generosity is as obvious as his commanding bulk. Being both a good student and musician, HELEN VOLZ has accomplished much in school.

JOE WACH works in the Boys' Band, and swimming is his favorite diversion. WANDA WAINWRIGHGT joins the ranks of actresses of outstanding dramatic ability. One thing we'll distinctly remember twenty years hence is JOHN WALKER'S characteristic interpretation of Uncle George in "Seventh Heaven". MARILYN WATT is a loyal booster of "business before pleasure". EDWARD WAYWOOD has been loyal to the Boys' Band for four years. To those who know PHYLLIS WEAVER, her quietness is only a front behind which are hidden traits that mark a welcome friend, cheerful ways, and always kindly words. ROBERT WEIL is the "business-like" chap who tries to keep the Herald out of the red. JANET WEISS debates with such ease and naturalness that we know that she enjoys every minute of it. NAOMI WEST has the ability to say what she's going to say without any hesitation. A London letter on men's fashions in not needed while RICHARD WHITE is in our midst.

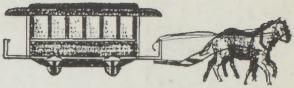

Not many people have realized what a fine genius at the piano LOREN WHITNEY really is. The poems of ADELE WILHELM will long be remembered by members of the the Bohemian Club. ARNOLD WILKEN enjoys his privileges and always manages to come out on the right side of an argument. ROBERT WILKINS does his best to take care of the orchestra and band music. We'll probably be seeing MARION WILSON'S caricatures in Vanity Fair in a few more years. WALTER WILSON seems to prefer playing his violin to a good many other school activities. We can readily associate GEORGE WINKLER with the book room. WALLACE WOLF is a genuine tennis enthusiast even though he doesn't play on the team. We think LILLIAN WOLTER made a very efficient treasurer of the Biology Club. LUCILLE WOODALL'S abilities cover a wide scope.

Secretary of Discipline
ROBERT CHILDS

JEANNE LYNCH
Secretary of the Junior Red Cross

In his senior year RALPH WOODALL discarded his music and located in the House of Representatives. MARY LOUISE WOOLEY is an excellent history student and a member of the National Honor Society. LEONA YORT loves to dance and does so as often as she can. DOROTHY YOUNG is popular because of her ability to make people like her. RUSSEL ZACHER, tall and dark, would make quite an attractive bachelor. BEN ZACKIEWICH lent his wisdom and knowledge to the Press Club in his last year. MAUREY ZLOTNIK, a good dancer, a good football center, has the authority to take charge of the Senior Class during the president's absence. The program of the Senior Class was carried out very effectively, due to the co-operation of the three advisors, MISS ANDERSON, MR. GARRETT, and MR. KEELER.

STERLING HALL and his persuasive manner could almost sell the Woolworth building. HILDEGARDE KELLER is one student fortunate enough to have studied in Germany. LILLIAN LEVIN devotes her time and attention to school from 8:30 to 3:05 and then "calls it a day". SORETTA RUVELL, because of her pleasing affirmative answer, has been chosen to answer the telephone third period in 116. THELMA STILLSON, sweet and useful, has a yearning to better herself in the field of home economics.

SENIOR WILL

BEING of sound minds, clear memories, pure characters, and being morally and physically capable, we, the Senior Class of 1933, who are about to sever the apron strings which tie us to our Alma Mater and to go out into the cruel and relentless world, do, on the behalf of the poor unfortunates left behind us, declare this our last will and testament.

ITEM I

1. To the Freshmen—Stilts to bring them up in the world.
2. To the Sophomores—The right to let everyone know they are here.
3. To the Juniors—Some of the surplus grandeur, dignity, and prestige of the Class of '33.

ITEM II

1. To Coach Huffine—Another would-be-champion football team.
2. To Miss Breyfogle—More students like Kathryn Kain.
3. To Miss Buck—A book entitled, "A Short Cut to Latin."
4. To Mr. Kumpf—A long standing account with the jeweler.
5. To Miss Allman—Season ticket to all the good plays.
6. To Miss Robards—French classes who can pronounce nasals.
7. To Miss Reeder—Bigger and better Biology Clubs.
8. To Mr. Long—An enlarged picture of some atoms and molecules.
9. To Miss Cain—A few Mary Gardens and John McCormacks for the Glee Clubs.

ITEM III

1. To Bill Blackmun—Joe's reputation.
2. To Alice Beckman—Alverta Sohl's high grades.
3. To Eleanor Rudolph—A dozen handkerchiefs with which to dry her eyes.
4. To Tom Tennant—Roy Dieterich's way with the women.
5. To Charles Bounds—Some of John Walker's air-tight alibies for being late.
6. To Jane Stevens—John Johnson's trials and tribulations as editor.
7. To Elizabeth Bakalar—A few more club memberships.
8. To Dick Brusch—Paul Howerton's sense of humor.
9. To Vera Mae Beamer—More places to use her pep.
10. To Billy Voss—Arthur Milne's stature.
11. To Lorraine DeRuick—Another blonde hero to keep her company in '34.
12. To Betty Clark—Betty Nelson's vim, vigor, and vitality.
13. To Ben Dutton—Salvo's ability as an orator.
14. To Marianne Estrup—More "Seventh Heavens".

Signed—Kathryn Coolman, Notary Republic, January 1, 1933.
Witnesses—Two deaf, dumb, and blind inmates of the insane asylum.

Juniors

From our high seat we look out upon the world with an air of condescending dignity, for we realize that we have attained the position of importance usually acceded to those who set forth examples of leadership and activity. Among our numbers we have athletes, musicians, artists, journalists, and persons who are recognized for their out-standing ability in dramatics.

The formal organization of our class was made when we elected the following officers; President, William Voss; Vice-President, Charles Bounds; Secretary, Jane Stevens; and treasurer, Marjorie Dickson. We chose as our sponsors Miss Johnson, Mr. Pittinger, and Mr. Beyer, who have cheerfully guided us to the peaks of success and achievement. Throughout our career we have maintained our standard of excellence and have done much to further the prominence of Hammond High School.

As a climax for this memorable year we sponsored a prom which will long be remembered by our senior guests.

Hooray for the red and white, the colors of the best group of students that were ever classified as Juniors.

GERMAN STUDENTS RECOGNIZED FOR COMPETENCE

The members of the German Club, accompanied by thein sponsor, Miss Suerth, sailed for Germany early in April on the Bremen, on the first lap of their European tour. They expect to study the origin of the German pretzels and beer. The members all speak German fluently so they will not experience the difficulty common to most American travelers.

The club obtained its finances by holding bi-weekly candy sales at the high school.

BOHEMIAN CLUB MAKES HIGH MARK WITH PEN

The novel written jointly by members of the Bohemian Club of Hammond High and submitted to the judges for the Pulitzer Prize won the award, thus upsetting the predictions and expectations of many great critics of literature.

The book is the story of the rise to fame of a young and talented novelist. The idea for the novel was conceived through the fact that through the club's activities some of its members may become the future authors and critics of the world's literature.

Organizations

ORGANIZATION has been the pass-word of American life during the past fifty years. It has characterized the progress which our country has made in nearly every field of work. Not only in our national life do we find this spirit prominent, for while great trusts have been centering the control of commerce and finance in the hands of a few, our school life has been made more interesting by the many extra-curricular activities which now are organized. In our school one may be sure to find a club to suit his tastes, whether they run to music, science, literature, history, or a host of other things. However, they not only represent the intellectual tastes of the school, but they also offer recreational opportunities which are widely used by the students. The various clubs which have been organized in the last year or two give ample proof of their popularity.

BEST OF BOYS AND GIRLS JOIN VOICES.

At the special request of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, the Hammond High School choral organizations have agreed to present the opera "Carmen" to the hosts of patrons of music in Chicago and the Calumet region.

The Choral Club at first considered refusing the request because of their other numerous and exacting duties. However, as interest in opera has been slack of late and something is needed to bolster up attendance, they have consented to lend their aid to this worthy cause.

NEWEST SINGING GROUP WINS PRAISE

The activities of the Boys' Quartet have ventured into many fields, but perhaps the most notable of their achievements has been the revival of the old barber shop quartet. After visiting her favorite barber one night, Miss Cain became of the opinion that something was needed to bring back the good old days of song in barber shops. Accordingly, she set the talent of the glee club to work, with the results that now, for the asking, any barber shop may have its own glorious vocalizers.

GIRL CAROLERS ACHIEVE SUCCESSES

Kate Smith, the songbird of the South, while looking around for some new material to liven up her program, chanced to hear the annual concert given by the Girls' Glee Club of Hammond High. She was so impressed by the quality of their singing that she immediately signed them up to appear with her.

They will make nightly broadcasts over station WGN as well as accompany our Miss Smith when she sings at the hospitals and soldiers' homes.

BOY VOCALISTS WIN WIDE ACCLAIM

Daniel Protheroe, nationally known director, has requested the Boys' Glee Club of Hammond High School to take the place of his famed Welsh Choir in a joint concert to be given with the Philadelphia Philharmonic Orchestra in the near future.

The orchestra has omitted several of its important concerts to come to Hammond and practice with the glee club. The proceeds of the concert will be devoted to the building of a new gym in the high school.

SELECT STUDENTS "PARLENT EN FRANCAES"

The student body of Hammond High was surprised and shocked when about thirty of their number were rounded up by the police, herded into a patrol wagon, and taken in the general direction of Kankakee.

The mistake was soon remedied when the information was received that it was only the French Club holding a meeting. Some passersby, overhearing these students mumbling strange words, had assumed they were mentally unbalanced and had notified the police.

SCIENCE OF HORTICULTURE STUDIED BY BIOLOGISTS

The Dunes has just received notice that the Biology Club has invented a new species of plant life. According to famous scientists and biologists, this experiment will nearly overshadow the works of the great Luther Burbank.

The discovery is the work of years of intensive research and experimenting with various kinds of plants. Its exact use has not yet been determined.

The members of the club have decided to name their discovery "Reederia", to compliment their instructor.

ART CLUB FOSTERS CREATIVE EFFORT

The Cathedral of Saint Peter at Rome is to be redecorated because the works of Michelangelo and other famous artists of that period have crumbled into ruin.

As the greatest artists and craftsmen of ancient times were chosen to decorate the cathedral, so the greatest artists and craftsmen of the present time have been chosen to do the redecorating. The Arts and Crafts Club of the Hammond High School will have charge of the main part of the work.

YOUTHFUL MOTORISTS SEEK AUTO INFORMATION

The portals of Hammond High School were racked to their very foundations by the news that Henry Ford would present a car to every member of one of our clubs because of the activities of that organization. The fortunate group is the Automobile Club.

The club's good work in promoting jay-walking first brought it to the notice of Mr. Ford, who has since watched their activities with great interest, it was learned from a letter received by Mr. Keeler.

CHARACTER BROADENED BY UPSTANDING SENIOR BOYS

The city of Hammond, sorely hit by the depression, was compelled to discontinue building on the new court house which occupies space across from the high school. All Hammond was saddened by the tragedy, for everyone had waited expectantly for its completion.

At this point, one of our organizations demonstrated its great motto. One of our proudest clubs, the Senior Hi-Y, stepped in and secretly made arrangements so that the construction could go on. The Hi-Y had saved the day.

FRESHMEN SCHOLARS REWARDED BY HONOR CLUB

A regular Mexican revolt was staged in Hammond High School when some thirty odd of our outstanding greenies revolted because of the lack of recognition given to freshmen. For hours the cannons roared and smoke hung heavily over the school, then suddenly ceased.

Then the freshmen, deciding that by this time the rest of the school was aware that there were freshies of ability among them, retired behind locked doors to a meeting of the Ace of Clubs.

AID EXTENDED BY ACTIVE GIRLS

The Girl Reserves of Hammond High School have undertaken a project worthy of Jane Addams. They will establish a Nutt House in Hammond. The motive was developed after a visit to Hull House in Chicago. In the future it may be said that the hull is in Chicago, but the nut is in Hammond.

The Girl Reserves organization has been active in the past, but this is the largest project they have undertaken to date. Miss Bollenbach will superintend the construction.

BOYS ORGANIZE TO ENJOY ADVANCED SCOUTING

The Boy Scout Club of Hammond High, while returning from a hike, noticed an overturned car at the side of the road. They investigated and discovered two men unconscious within the car. They dragged them out, revived them, bandaged their wounds, and aided them to reach Hammond.

The two men, high city officals who prefer to remain unknown, grateful for the timely aid, presented the club with a complete and luxuriously equipped club house in the Forest Preserve as a reward for being prepared.

STUDENT BOOK-FRIENDS BECOME EFFICIENT LIBRARIANS

An unusual opportunity has come to the Hammond High library staff, or perhaps not so unusual if one considers the efficiency of the local group. The operating system of the Chicago Public Library has become disorganized, owing to the suddenly accumulated material concerning the Century of Progress. The regular staff was unable to cope with the situation because of their limited experience. The Hammond staff was selected to solve the difficulty because of its outstanding record in the field of librarians.

ART OF THEATRE BROUGHT TO SCHOOL

The University Film Corporation of Hollywood, California, has voted to star members of the high school dramatic society showing the greatest ability in a gigantic super production. The Dramatic Club of Hammond High has received this honor.

Carl Laemmle, president of the film organization, has come to Hammond to conduct the tryouts. Bob Becker is to play the lead opposite Greta Garbo. The supporting cast will consist of members of the dramatic club and other famous movieland stars.

OLD MASTERS REVERED BY BOYS' BAND

An unusual honor has come to the Boys' Band of Hammond High School. The Marine Band, whose entire personnel was suffering attacks of jazz rag, was unable to play for the inauguration of the new president, so President Roosevelt requested the presence of the Hammond High unit.

The band members all received new uniforms for the occasion as a gift from the School Board. The boys may later make a tour of the country at the expense of Bim Gump.

GIRLS' BAND MAKES MUSIC FEMININE

Conductor Kryll, desiring to be among the first to land girl musicians, has chosen the Girls' Band of Hammond High School to accompany him on his nation-wide tour. Kryll's Band has formerly been composed of men only.

The Girls' Band has the distinction of being the first band with a personnel entirely of girls to provide the official music at the World's Fair.

The Burlington Route has provided a special train to transport the girls about the United States.

GREAT SYMPHONIES MASTERED BY MUSICIANS

The Hammond High School Orchestra, state and national contest winners, has been chosen to give Sunday morning concerts in Roxy's Theater in New York City during the spring concert season. In an interview, Mr. Roxy stated that the high school musicians were chosen in preference to the professional orchestra because of their love of practicing long hours in succession without becoming discouraged.

The school faculty has exempted the musicians from all future examinations. There are no more vacant places in the orchestra.

DANCE BAND MAKES SCHOOL PARTIES POPULAR

The Pirate Playboys of Hammond High have taken over the position which is usually occupied at the College Inn by Ben Bernie's orchestra. Bernie's entire outfit of musicians was unexpectedly taken down with the measles. It was thought at first that the Inn would have to be closed until their recovery. Joe Dennis of the Playboys happened to be in the crowd when the announcment was made and immediately volunteered the services of his fellow musicians.

HISTORICAL SATELLITES GRACE H. H.S

The Sphinx Club is one organization in the Hammond High School with ideas. They have settled wars, elected presidents, and advised Congress, but all being loyal Sphinxes, the members seldom tell of their activities.

It was only after repeated attempts at interviews that Miss Breyfogle and Miss Burhans were induced to tell the club's views on that vital issue, the repeal of prohibition. Most of the members are in favor of repeal due to the dryness of their late meetings.

FORENSIC ABILITY DISPLAYED BY DEBATERS

Hammond High's Affirmative Debate team, finding themselves without sufficient competition, have been forced to look elsewhere. Mr. Cook, while considering opponents worthy of their talents, received a cordial invitation from Senator Huey Long to come to Washington and debate with him before Congress. He suggested the subject of Prohibition as one on which both sides would be well informed. The team will leave for the scene of action as soon as it has collected the necessary data.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS REWARDED FOR AMBITIONS

A Dunes reporter in the role of the ancient Diogenes went searching for and found some honest men. Within the portals of Hammond High School he found an entire group of people with whom honor and ambition is a byword. This group is known as the National Honor Society.

Under the direction of Miss Gustafson these ambitious students have set a standard for leadership, scholarship, and character for the school. At last, because of them, Diogenes may put out his light and go to sleep.

DEBATERS EMPLOY WITS IN VERBAL CONFLICT

The Negative Debate team of Hammond High School recently returned from a short visit to Europe where its members appeared before the League of Nations and the World Court. While there, they participated in the debate over the China-Japan question, defending China against the Japanese methods. Settling that dispute to everyone's satisfaction, they turned around and defended Japan's actions to prevent the meeting from adjourning too soon. The noted men of affairs were astounded by the knowledge displayed by the American visitors.

LOWERCLASSMEN COMPOSE SPECIAL GROUP

A noble effort has been made recently by some of our fellow inmates to alleviate the burdens of unfortunates. The movement is well deserving of recognition.

Under the soft-eyed supervision of Mr. Easton the sophomore members of the Hi-Y have formed the sacred "League of Those Who Lead Blind Men Across Streets." The sole purpose of this clique is to help those less fortunate than themselves, and the only requirement is to have led three blind men across a busy street.

ENTERPRISING JUNIORS ENJOY UNUSUAL ACTIVITIES

The Junior Hi-Y has proved that within the barriers of old Hammond High is a club possessing such rare talent and genius that the world is dumbfounded by the projects perpetrated by them.

This club of juniors has distinguished itself before the universe's blinking eyes. Although many of the foremost engineers refuse to believe it, these enterprising lads have accomplished one of the biggest feats since the Panama Canal. By simple stones, sticks, and sand, they have succeeded in damming the Grand Calumet.

ETHER MEN ENTHUSED OVER RADIO CLUB

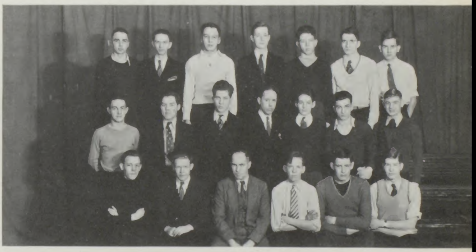

The Radio Club of the Hammond High School, one of the newest organizations, has already contributed in a large way to the school's fame. The necessary apparatus for transmitting radio programs has been installed on the fourth floor and will soon be in operation. The station, called B.L.A.H., has been given a nation-wide hookup.

The programs for the main part will be furnished by local talent.

SNAPSHOT MANIA ENVELOPS CHEMISTS

The Camera Club of Hammond High was awarded the grand prize of five thousand dollars for the best picture taken by amateur photographers, in the contest sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company.

The Camera Club, which devotes its time to the taking and developing of pictures, will spend a large share of the prize to purchase one of the best developing equipments available so that in the future the club can earn its expenses by running a regular developing service.

The future of the book room staff of H. H. S. has been amply provided for. After their graduation they will have been offered jobs to take over a famous bookstore in Chicago. Representatives of the store saw them in school and were so impressed by their methods that they hired them regardless of the depression. The fortunate members of the book room will have entire charge of the store and of all profits received.

H-GIRLS FORM EXCLUSIVE ATHLETIC CLUB

The members of Hammond High School's Girls' Athletic Club, ably coached by Miss Dieterich and Miss Anderson, have gained recognition for their long hours of practice at the various season sports. During the disqualification of Babe Didrikson, several positions were left vacant on the United States Olympic Team, so various members of the G. A. C. were selected to fill her place, due to outstanding records in athletics.

The girls will begin their training at camp this summer.

AMATEUR JOURNALISTS PUBLISH SCHOOL PAPER

The editorial staff of the Calumet Herald will be the first high school students on record to edit a great national daily newspaper. The New York Sun has inaugurated the plan of permitting a high school staff to take entire charge of editing an issue of their paper in order to test the present high school methods of teaching journalism. The Hammond High staff was chosen because of its outstanding work in the journalistic field.

WILLING WORKERS AID ASSOCIATION

Marshall Field and Company of Chicago has placed its entire stock of merchandise at the service of the Junior Red Cross unit of Hammond High School. The store has suspended business for a week in order that there may be ample time to distribute the goods to the deserving poor of the Calumet region.

The students of the high school have been organized into groups and dismissed from school so that the work may be carried out more efficiently.

The entire printing staff of the Chicago Tribune is to take a two weeks vacation up North, leaving their many responsibilities in the capable hands of the high school Press Club.

The editors of the Tribune feel confident that the work has been left in efficient hands.

RECOGNITION GIVEN HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC-SCHOLARS

Unlike the Big 10, Hammond High has been unable to decide upon one separate individual in each sport to whom to award the highest athletic honor. There have been some dozen athletes so peerless that there is no choice; consequently, the H-Men's Club. It may become necessary shortly to place them on exhibition so that some one besides the envious "freshies" may have an opportunity to see who composes this select group.

Athletics

A quick review of Hammond's athletic season shows that Hammond had one of the best football teams in the state, missing the conference championship by one game. Then the basketball team came through and won the sectional tournament. Several of the wrestlers placed at the state meet, and prospects are that the track team will again win several state championships this year.

FOOTBALL

The 1932 football season will be remembered as one of the most successful in the history of Hammond High School. The Wildcats were rated by several reliable critics as the best "all-around" team in the state.

Even a record of six wins and two losses does not do the team justice. Looking over the scores we find that Hammond scored 185 points against 25 for opponents. The Wildcat's goal was not crossed during the first five games.

"Chet" Gargas, captain and tackle, was the team's leader. He was helped on the line by Lee Graves, all-state guard, and Bob Vogel, end, who received honorable mention in the all-state findings.

The back field centered around Orr, all-state second team half back. Schwingendorf and Sovola were two venterans who helped to make it one of the best balanced in the state.

Next year Hammond's prospects are again bright. Coach Huffine stated that he expects to have the heaviest team Hammond has ever had.

WHITING 0 HAMMOND 6

For three quarters the Whiting lads kept the Wildcats from doing anything but threatening. Then in the third period they opened with an aerial attack that took the ball to the one yard stripe from which Domke plunged it over in the opening minutes of the last quarter. Orr did the Hammond flinging. Stan Sovola, regular fullback, broke two ribs. His place was taken by Paul Schwingendorf, who played a "bang-up" game.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL 0 HAMMOND 20

The first half was a hard fought battle with no scoring. After showing a strong defense for the first half, the Wildcats broke into an attack that netted them three touchdowns. Vogel converted the extra point after two of the markers.

EMERSON 0 HAMMOND 7

Orr started things in a big way by carrying the ball for a touchdown in three plays after we got possession of it on an Emerson fumble. Hammond was out to avenge the many ignominious defeats at the Tornadoes' hands. This is the big game of the year, and winning it alone would make a successful season.

ROOSEVELT 0 HAMMOND 19

All of the scoring was done in the middle periods. Early in the quarter, Orr went off tackle for the first touchdown. In the third period the "plunging Gigolo" went across for two more markers. Vogel made his second place kick good for the extra point.

Gargas, Zlotnik, and Graves played great line games.

STOPPED! — In the Horace Mann Game.

FROEBEL 0 HAMMOND 39

This game, unlike the ones in former years, was all ours. Orr again played a stellar role by scoring two touchdowns besides passing and kicking in great form. Graves, guard, was in almost every play.

Golarz, Hammond sub, intercepted a pass and raced fifty yards for a touchdown.

WASHINGTON 18 HAMMOND 13

Before ten thousand frenzied fans, Washington shattered the Wildcat conference championship hopes. Orr smashed off tackle in the first period for a brilliant 58 yard run and a touchdown. Stabler fell on a Washington fumble behind their goal line to give Hammond a 13-0 lead. "Big Bob" Vogel and "Little Lee" Graves played the game of their lives, but Stan's plunging pushed Hammond backwards for 18 points.

TECHNICAL 0 HAMMOND 50

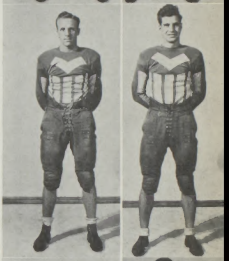

The city championship game was a complete runaway for Hammond. Touchdowns were scored by Orr, Sovola, Vogel, Salczynski, and Zlotnik. Two more points were gained when a Tiger ball carrier fell back of his own goal line for a safety. Besides scoring a touchdown, Vogel kicked five placements out of six attempts.

HORACE MANN 7 HAMMOND 6

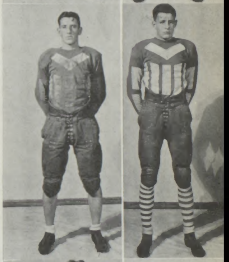

After Washington lost to Emerson, Hammond had a chance to cop the conference championship again in this game. Luck seemed to be against us. Hammond outplayed the Horsemen throughout the entire game. They made 21 first downs to their opponent's one. Horace Mann lost more yards than they gained through scrimmage.

BASKETBALL

For the first time in her history Hammond High School is champion of the toughest sectional in the state. After going through a season of extremely tough breaks, they got together in the tournament and finished the year in grand style. Until the last four games on the schedule, the team never played without having at least one member on the sick list.

Functioning under a new coach, the Wildcats showed an entirely different brand of basketball the latter part of the season. They developed a semi-fast-break supplemented by a defense which was rated by critics as the best in the conference.

Besides winning the sectional, the Wildcats are again city champs. The crown passed out of their hands last year for the first time but is back again with two wins over Tech out of three starts and a win over Catholic Central.

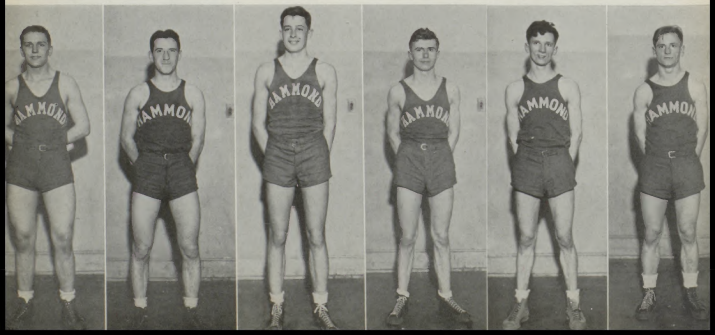

In the Christmas Tournament at Gary the Wildcats went to the consolation finals and lost to Roosevelt by one point.

Hammond took only one short trip this year. At Valparaiso they lost a hard fought game to the conference champions but took revenge by beating them on our own floor.

It has been said that all Hammond ever needed was a "winning complex". With the example of this year's basketball team to follow, Hammond should produce some winners in the future. Hammond scored 492 points to its opponents 466.

Only three men from the tournament squad graduate. They are Gargas, Orr, and Baldwin. Hammond will be looking for a 1934 championship as well.

Gargas Orr Schulte Baldwin A. Salczynski E. Salczynski

Coach Huffine has said that every man on a team has one game he can call his own, one in which he clearly plays his best. We all know that Chuck Bounds did his flash at the tournament finals by sinking the winning basket with five seconds to go. In the semi-finals Chuck Baldwin showered the basket for five points at a tense moment in the last quarter of the Emerson game. "Gig" Orr's chance came in the Horace Mann game, where he took revenge for a football defeat. Anton Salczynski flashed up in the Froebel game with six baskets, and Wally Yablonowski matched wits with Oliver, Whiting's star, and came out much in the lead. "Chet" Gargas, the Wildcat captain, could claim almost any game on the schedule, having played consistent ball all season. Don Schulte piled up his points in the Catholic Central game.

During the very successful 1932 season the track team took fourth in the state indoor meet, second in the sectional, third in the conference, and seventh in the state outdoor meet.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Starting from scratch with only three possibilities, Sitko,, VanNatta and Marks, Coach Easton developed the Wildcat cross-country team into one of the most powerful in the conference.

John Sitko made a most impressive record this season by not having a single defeat.

Malvern Trutt was laid up most of the season with a sprained ankle, but he made up for this in the conference by finishing up in front with Sitko.

Walter Sohl and John VanNatta came through in great style and were always sure of being among the first five to finish.

Bunger, a senior without any track experience of any kind, developed rapidly, ran number four position on the team, and finished in ninth place in the conference.

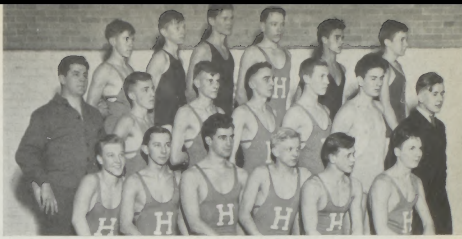

The team will be hard hit by graduation since Sitko, Sohl, Van Natta, Bunger, O'Sullivan, and Marks are Seniors.

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM

TOP ROW: Kantowski, Marks, Sitko, Coach Easton, Trutt, Papuga, Horst, Kleinschmidt, O'Sullivan, Sohl.

BOTTOM ROW: VanNatta, Bunger, Kleinschmidt, O'Sullivan, Sohl.

SWIMMING TEAM

TOP ROW: Murringham, Lah, Faber, Graves, Housely, Jacobson.

2nd ROW: Coach Scott, Danch, Brunsdon, D. Smith, Bourne, Bevan, Findling

3rd ROW: Tweedle, M. Smith, Sovola, Christen, Fross, Walker.

SWIMMING

Hammond's 1933 Wildcat swimming squad under Captain Christen worked themselves into a team which was feared by their opponents, although a lack of competition left them uncontested during a major part of the season.

Their only conference foes were Washington of East Chicago, Whiting, and Central of South Bend. Horace Mann, Froebel and Emerson of Gary did not participate in swimming activities, and Thornton Fractional offered only non-conference competition.

The Wildcats tied Washington for third place in the Thornton Fractional Invitational meet in which three Indiana and three Illinois teams competed. Our conference meet was held in South Bend on April 8.

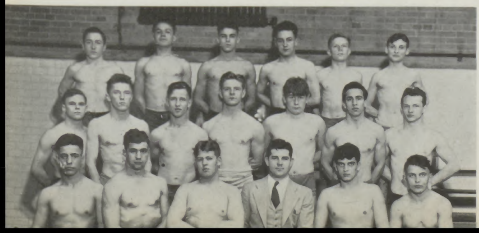

The team was probably the most compact in the district. The free stylers were Christen, Tweedle, Sovola, D. Smith, and Mikulan. Bevan was the Cats' chief breast-stroke man. Brunsdon and Evans were also exponents of this division. Fross and Danch composed the Purple back-stroke battery, and M. Smith and Kitchen were the Varsity divers.

Hammond has the enviable record of having lost only one conference meet in the last two seasons.

WRESTLING

This year was only the second year of wrestling for Coach Scott's grappling Wildcats, but they made up for the lack of experience by scrappy and strategic fighting which resulted in a win over a strong Washington squad and sixth place in the state meet at Bloomington.

The Wildcats started their 1933 season by losing a very close match to Washington of East Chicago. Becker, Leets, Graves, and Haak won for the Wildcats. In a return match with Washington a few weeks later, our boys stepped out in front with wins from Becker, Leets, Swiontek, Jones, Graves, and Haak. The following week the Wildcats went to East Chicago to take on the strong Roosevelt stranglers but took it on the chin. Next week the Wildcats saw plenty of action at the N.I.H.S.C. at Roosevelt. Only one Wildcat produced a win, and this was our stellar 165 pounder, Graves. Although a state champ was not produced in the state meet, Sovola came out of the fray with a second, while Leets and Graves won thirds. Becker, Barton, and Sitko won fourths.

WRESTLING TEAM

2nd ROW: Britton, Trutt, Page, Graves, Millian, Leets, Swiontek.

1st ROW: Jones, Sovola, Haak, Coach Scott, Bohling, Sitko.

TOP ROW: Bonni, Yates, Downing, Miller, Stoehr.
2nd ROW: Adley, Petzinger, Vargo, Bennett, Baldwin, Rudolph.
1st ROW: Frisk, Johns, Evyan.

TOP ROW: Beckman, Falk, Bartold, Boyer, Evyan.
1st ROW: Yates, Petzinger, Nelson.

FALL SPORTS

Speedball and basketball were the sports offered by the girls' physical education department this fall. Enthusiasm for sports has proved to exceed that of previous years and has made possible the forming of several teams for each sport.

Speedball, which is played during the warmer months on the field, enables the girls to develope skill with their feet, as well as their hands, by kicking and dribbling. The south end of the field was used exclusively for speedball, this making an enjoyable ground to play on.

This year basketball has been more popular than any other sport. The teachers played along with the girls, and, by means of tournaments, it held the interest of the department.

SWIMMING

During the swimming season this year, a new plan was tried and successfully carried out by the girls' swimming teams.

Instead of having only the Varsity squad practicing, the four classes were organized and each competed with all the others.

The freshman turnout brought forth a surprising amount of good material which will be benificial to next year's Varsity squad.

TOP ROW: Betz, Bartold, Elstun, Groman.
3rd ROW: Stoikowitz, Pickett, Goldstein, Partridge, Peterson.
2nd ROW: Estrup, Auch, Petzinger, Hopman, Dobbins.
1st ROW: Cole, Campbell, Cronk.

SPRING SPORTS

Volley ball, which is played in the early spring, has proved very popular this year.

Tennis, a warm season sport, is offered along with gym work. The school has three courts for the purpose of accommodating the players during school hours.

Archery, a newly added game to the department, has brought about great interest among its players.

There has been greater intramural competition this year than ever before. Class teams have been formed and each class has competed against another for the championship. From each of these teams a varsity has been formed.

Under the direction of Miss Anderson and Miss Dieterich, advisors of the department, the girls' athletic club has been made bigger and better than ever.

TOP ROW: Campbell, Falk, Downing, Bartold, Adley, Bennett, Petzinger.
1st ROW: Ruichers, Fuzzy, Johns, Peterson, LaVigne.

TOP ROW: Rudolph, Miller, Downing, Sohl, Stoehr, Adley.
2nd ROW: Frisk, Bonnie, Vargo, Bennett, Baldwin, Schloegal.
1st ROW: Fuzzy, Peterson, Johns, Campbell, Corem.

SWIMMING

The Sophomore team had the largest turnout and caused many upsets in their meets, but the Juniors kept pace with them, having seval Varsity members and new material as well.

The Seniors had a comparatively small turnout but as most of the girls were members of last years' squad their experience gave them the edge on other teams.

TOP ROW: Rudolph, Brusch, Cobb, Mauch, Miller.
3rd ROW: Frank, Baker, Sternberg.
2nd ROW: Granger, Tuley, Auch, Ibach, Johns.
1st ROW: Schmidt, Johns, Crumpacker, Beckman, LaVigne.

Dear Editor:

I think there should be a law passed. I was just soaked ten ninths. I lives four blocks away from school and no matter what time I start, I'm always late in the morning, this morning I starts to school at 8:15 (allowing 15 minutes for a train) and then the train held me up 16 minutes. Isn't it a shame? and then when I goes to the office to get an admit to advisory and says train to the office girl she says train my eye so naturally I tells her I'm no optometrist. But anyway I gets ten ninths and I'd like to know how long the sacred name of our fair school can be upheld while such awful practices are permitted. I fear to say.

INFLUENCE OF THE CLASS OF 1933 ON CIVILIZATION

More important than the fall of Rome, more far-reaching than the discovery of America, and more broadly heralded than plans for the elevation of the Erie tracks, is the graduation of the Class of 1933.

Other famous events of history, such as the Industrial Revolution and the advent of the five-cent double-dip ice cream cones on Calumet Avenue, have proved invaluable factors in the march of civilization, but the influence of the graduation of the Class of '33 overshadows all else in this respect. (Reference- first thirteen volumes of Encyclopedia Brattonica).

In time, when the memory of the Class of 1933 has become a sacred myth and a hallowed legend in the halls of Hammond High School, then and then only,--gentle reader, will the true value of this unusual, unprecedented, and incomparable collection of scholars be appreciated.

Without doubt the graduates of this great class will eventually become the back-bone of a new era in human progress. From it's sturdy file will come unflinchingly those willing to shoulder the tremendous troubles of this earth— to guide us onward to Utopia where Alladin's lamps are sold for two-bits at the little store around the corner.

Ah, what a fortunate day is that of the graduation of the class of 1933. Most assuredly wonders will be wrought! And in conclusion ladies and gentlemen, we deem it guite appropiate and proper to quote a little jewel of wisdom— Webster's last words: "Zymotic, zymurgy, and zythum."

Pressing Punctuality

"Faster, faster," was my silent cry,
As I raced on to my goal, room 5;
Would I make it? Doubtful, but at least I'd try.
And so faster, faster, onward,
Room 10, 9, then 4. Hope shines bright,
Not yet the hated bell was heard
To complicate my plight;
A final sprint, the slide, and in my seat,
I flopped triumphant, again the clock I'd beat.
True, time flies,
But so had I.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

"Ladies and Gentlemen, stage curtain has just gone up 2 points and now sells at 98¾. 'Take it away,' yells Quentin Clark, and E. C. Minas Co. takes it away for failure to pay 3rd installment.

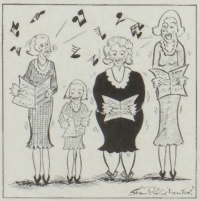

Of course, the band and orchestra have "chisled" in as usual. But after all we must have someone to fill up the first three rows. There are the champions! Kosanke, who set a new national long distance mark of 6 ft. 2 1-4 in. with his slide trombone; Childs, who chewed the ends off 13 clarinets and one oboe for a new state mark, and last but not least—Bill Vance who groaned out double Z flat on his string bass for a new international (Harvester) record.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

They're ready now. There goes the gun, they're off. Oh, what a rave. What a finish! Ladies and Gentlemen, the band has just finished playing the "Pansy Lullaby", Willard Jonas taking first easily, finishing a good 6 measures ahead of the rest of the band. With a little longer stride he ought to go places this spring.

What's this, a riot? Oh, the choral clubs have just broke in and insist on singing. Too bad, who let them in?

CHORAL CLUB

They are singing now, what tone, what volume, what junk. Too bad they don't all try singing the same song. The name of their song is "In a little country Farmyard." Joe Frost is doing the famous "Baby Chicken Duet" for two sopranos. Roy Dieterich is just made for the part of the "Pig's Lamentation" in B natural. Thank goodness that's over.

Now for the Hi-Y club. Ain't they sweet? All they need is a pair of wings and a good sound—well, never mind. They are all dressed in velvet panties and silk blouses with red ribbons in their hair. Vice-President Bob Becker says a little piece.

"Oh, I'm a little Hi-Yer,
A flitting through the school
Of doing good deeds I never tire
Because— because—awa—awa—"

Now isn't that sweet? Too bad the little darling forgot the last line. But he looked so cute when he started to cry.

SENIOR HI-Y

AUTOMOBILE CLUB

Mr. Beyers then does a toe dance standing on his hands and dressed like a "Happy New Year" cherub. When he tripped over his feet he brought down the house—and half of the stage.

The Automobile club is supposed to be next on the program but they couldn't get here—no one knowing how to drive.

The Bohemian club scampers out on the stage. Elmer Schultz—the platinum shiek—recites his prize winning poem.

"Oh little birdie in the tree,
Oh, won't you come right down to me?
A little worm to you I'll bring
If for me you'll only chirp."

It's the Press club's turn now, and Jim Terry skips out and does the scarf dance with 2 wool blankets and a sail from the Constitution. Give the little boy a big hand and save your foot for the French club.

Another bad break, we were just getting along fine until the Herald staff program comes along. Can't they keep their noses out of this at least? But they really are getting along better now. They can practically copy things from

The Boy Scouts will now put on a little demonstration. First,

The Sphinx Club is supposed to be next. They require an "A" by book, hook, or crook. They're so dumb that they still think the Industrial Revolution was the one in which we won our independence—when we all know it was a fight between two factories.

But they really have wonder-

the "Tribune", "News", and "Times", without a mistake.

Mr. Collins, Editor Kain, and Manager Meiers come out disguised as "Yellow journalists", dressed in Chinese coolie-coats and eating chop suey. They sing the "Chinese Lullaby" (which wakes everybody up from a sound sleep.)

Did you hear that they were reducing the "Herald" down to the size of a postage stamp and chargful memories. They can remember every date in history (even the one between Solomon and the Queen of Sheba), how old Cleopatra's snake was, and what the caliber of the bullet that killed Lincoln was. Too bad they forgot to come tonight.

Oops—everything is coming down nowadays. Potatoes, tomatoes, the stock market and even the curtain. There will be a brief intermission while they coax it up again. In the meantime we will be entertained by a short play by the Dramatic club.

Juliet: (Shirley Friedman) Romeo, my Romeo. Where art thou? (Aside-the big bum was supposed to be here at 8.)

Romeo: (Robert Meehan—jumping over the garden wall and landing in the swimming pool on the other side.) Darling, I am here. (Aside—You would have to tell me the wrong window to crawl in. It was the old ladies. Oh, my poor eye.)

Juliet: (Wringing her hands and hanging them out to dry) Come to me, my beloved. (Aside—I wish he'd stay away, even his best friend hates to tell him what's wrong and to use "Life Buoy".)

"Vas you dere, Chollie?"

The members of the Ace of Clubs toddle out in their new rompers, "Ga, Ga, Da, Da," they sing in unison (which doesn't necessarily mean in time.) Miss Pritchard is nursemaid and keeps the little darlings from sucking their thumbs and slobbering up their bibs. The little freshmen are studying at their club meetings, "How to Keep Our Books from Getting Wet When Our Upper Classmen Locker-Partners Dumps His Overshoes on Top of Them."

GIRL RESERVES

Listen to that oriental music, Ladies and Gentlemen. Here comes Alverta Sohl, of the Biology club, to do a snake charming act. Look at that baby wiggle her hips (the snake of course.) The snake looks Alverta in the eye. Alverta curls up in a circle and sways her head back and forth, sticking out her pointed tongue. Wonderful what a snake can do.

PROFESSOR GARRETT LECTURES ON GEOMETRY CLASS ADMITS THAT THE SLEEP DOES THEM GOOD

"Today we will study the triangle," snorts Mr. Garrett, blowing bubbles with his gum. "There are two kinds of triangles—the wrong and the right. Of course there is the eternal triangle, but you see them only in the movies. (Snicker, snicker.)

"As you all know, I was born in 1886. When I was 13 years old, they kicked me out of kindergarten because I persisted in sleeping in the sand table. Oh yes, where was I? As I was saying, there are two kinds of circles—a round circle and a square circle which they often call a square because it is one. (Loud snores.)

"Now to get back on the subject, how many of you have ever run the 440? My father, "Honest Abe" Garrett, used to run the A&P over in Munster. My grandfathers, "Old Hickory", and "Stonewall" Garrett, once ran for Dogcatcher in Podunk. My uncle, "Scarface" Garrett, jumped his bond in Chicago. So you can see I come from an athletic family. THE VISION OF SIR LAUNMOWER (OR TEN KNIGHTS IN A BARROOM)

The day of the tournament at last had arrived,
And in poured the knights, their ladies at their side,
And there upon his gilded throne,
Sat His Royal Highness, Good King Spohn.

The ladies of his court, they all were there,
Clad in pink silk tights and their heads shaved bare;
Allman, Davis, Lowery, and Wood
They all looked as pretty as a teacher possibly could.

Then from the grandstand came a mighty cheer,
For in came the knights with sword and spear;

A fight to the finish, each battle would be,
And the champion would win the fair lady.

Sir Collins and Squire Beyers met in the finals,
Each clad in a suit of brilliant red flannels;
Each strode a worn-out Latin Pony,
Very much used, thin and bony.
Sir Collins led, giving Beyers a jar,
"I studied law and was (almost) admitted to the bar."
But Beyers recountered, that blow to meet,
"I'd have been in the army if it weren't for flat feet."

This thrust chased Sir Collins back afar,
But he cried out, "I used to report for the "Indianapolis Star."
A goodly blow but Beyers still fought,
You ought to see that kid I got."

After that one, Collins uttered a peep,
Cussed three times and laid down to sleep;
And to Squire Beyers belonged victory
$1000 in worthless checks and the fair lady.

But who is this out of the West
In horn-rimmed goggles and flaming crest;
So faithful in love and grand in triumph,
There never was a knight like young Sir Kumpf.

He snatched from Sir Beyer the fair lady,
(Miss Johnson who teaches Sociology.)
And with a Hey nonny nonny and a Hot cha-cha,
They dashed away to live off her ma and pa.

King Spohn he raved and Prime Minister Rupp,
Yelled, "Give him 10 ninths," till he got the hiccups;
Collins called him a "Yellow Journalist" and Davis fainted away,
(They haven't found her up to this day.)

Coach Huffine's cheeks turned a red in indignation,
So they took him for an Indian and gave him a reservation;
Garrett was so surprised he fell on the grass,
And forgot to teach football in his Geometry class.

Hays' physics class began to weep,
And even during his lecture couldn't go to sleep;
The crickets, they chirp, and the frogs say "grumph,"
But you never saw a knight like Sir Walter Kumpf.

ASK MISS KIRBY

Dear Editor:

Can you tell me where I can get hold of a cheap Latin pony which can do a lot of work for me?

Red (Cicero) Strong

A PAGE FROM MY DIARY

Feb. 31, '33—As I heard the telephone ring, a terrible premonition warned me of approaching calamity. Oh, yes—too true—I was soon sitting in a hard office chair (commonly called the "hot seat"), facing the man of destiny, the man in gray—the man who made or broke with a mere stroke of his pen. Was I to be his next victim?

Realizing that it would be a battle of wits, survival of the fittest, I struggled to organize my confused thoughts. Consequently when he said,

"What brings you here?"

I instantly replied with great dignity,

"My dogs."

His answer almost took the wind out of my sales. He said, "Dogs are absolutely not allowed in the halls. Don't do it again."

Although still shaky, hope srung up within me. Maybe that was all he wanted to know about.

But no, the real issue was yet to come. Glancing at a note on his desk, he said,

"Kirby informs me that you're doing failing work in Latin. What have you to say for yourself?"

For an instant I was stunned. His accusation had hit me in the face like a bride's biscuit. He had played his ace. But like a flash, divine inspiration arose to my rescue. I jumped to my feet and leveling my finger in his face shouted,

"Al, don't tell me you never flunked Latin!"

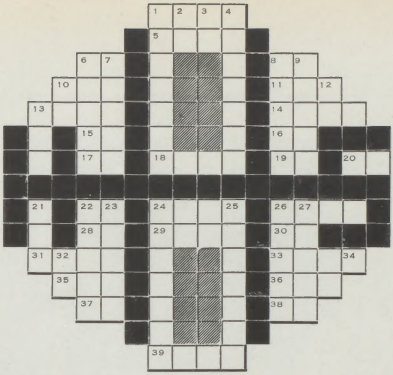

With a convulsive jerk, he literally threw his head in his arms. Deep sighs shook his frame as I realized that I had won. "Veni, vidi, vici!" (Thanks, Caesar.) I had trumped HIS ace.

Starting toward the door, joy in my heart, I said sternly,

"Hereafter, don't bother me like this. I have more important things to do."

But then, the man in gray said something that cast the true light on his character. It stripped me of all the illusion which I had ever possessed about this man.

He said, (Turn to page 101)

The harder you're thrown,
Why, the higher you bounce;
Be proud of your blackened eye!
It isn't the fact that your licked that counts;
It's how did you fight, and why? —Cooke

You must Train for Progress and Success

77th YEAR

The HALL of SCIENCE one of the ultra modern units which distinguish the 'Century of Progress' Exposition located in Chicago's 'Front Yard'.

Enrollment at Bryant and Stratton College affords the opportunity of choosing among sixteen college grade courses including Business Administration, Executive Secretarial, Stenotype, Commercial Italian, French or Spanish, General Accounting, etc. School location is superb . . . Classmates are congenial . . . Environment is that of briskness and energy naturally found in an enterprising business office

For one hundred years Chicago has been building and stands today in the front rank of world cities. The rapid growth, orderly arrangement, and massed beauty of the city show clear vision and careful planning when she was young.

Will you so plan your career that your personal progress will be something to celebrate? Five years hence will you be able to congratulate yourself for having had the foresight to take advantage of the intense practical training available at this school?

For more than three quarters of a century Bryant & Stratton College has been placing capable young men and women in positions of responsibility and opportunity.

It's our job but your good taste

"Some of the girls at school paid loads of money for their things but the simple little dresses I bought from you seemed to make the biggest hit everyone wanted to know where I got them.
